DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 3/13/06 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Smith (6,645,238). Smith discloses a stent delivery catheter comprising an inner shaft (104), a stent (108) and a sheath (114) having an outer polymer layer and an inner ceramics (col. 3, lines 47-67) attached/affixed to the entire surface of the outer polymeric layer in the region of the stent bed (col. 2, lines 30-38, col. 4, lines 17-20).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3731

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1, 2, 4-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Smith '238.

Smith discloses a stent delivery catheter comprising an inner shaft (104), a stent (108) and a sheath (114) having an outer polymer layer and an inner ceramics (col. 3, lines 47-67) attached/affixed to the entire surface of the outer polymeric layer in the region of the stent bed (col. 2, lines 30-38, col. 4, lines 17-20).

Although, Smith does not disclose the lubricious inner layer being pyrolytic carbon, Smith teaches inner the lubricious inner layer being ceramics, amorphous carbon. Pyrolytic carbon is a well-known lubricious material in the art beside ceramics and amorphous carbon or diamond like coatings. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to substitute the lubricous material as disclosed by Smith with pyrolytic carbon. Doing so would amount to mere substitution of one known material for the other within the art that performs equally well in Smith's device.

In regarding to claim 5, it would have been obvious matter of design choice to have pyrolytic carbon indirect affixed to the polymeric layer such that pyrolytic carbon affixed to a substrate and the substrate being affixed to the polymeric layer, since applicant has not disclose that having the pyrolytic carbon affixed to a substrate and the substrate being affixed to the polymeric layer solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the sheath would perform equally well with the pyrolytic carbon direct or indirect affixed to the polymeric layer.

Conclusion

5. This is a continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 of applicant's earlier Application No. 10/080,970. All claims are drawn to the same invention claimed in the earlier application and could have been finally rejected on the grounds and art of record in the next Office action if they had been entered in the earlier application. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL even though it is a first action in this case. See MPEP § 706.07(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no, however, event will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
